Goal

This proposal is for me (i.e., the Director of the psych clinic) to approve the cultural group, clientele, and psychological topics you will discuss in the sensitivity poster and report you will produce for the final project in this course (see general description of final project in the course outline). Be as specific as possible in terms of the culture (national labels might make it easier to do your research), clientele, and topics you want to explore. At this point, you have not collected a lot of research on the topic so it is normal that your topics change from now to when you write your project. For now, I want you to try think about what would be a realistic and important subject.

General instructions

1. Copy paste and fill out the template on the next page. Remember that you must choose a culture that is different from your own.
2. On a separate page but in the same document, submit a reference list containing one academic article you found on the subject following APA style formatting.

Grading

You will be graded on the following 5-point scale:

5 = information provided meets or exceeds expectations; highly specific, high-quality exploration, clear, realistic and exciting project

4 = information provided meets expectations, specific information, but is somewhat a little unrealistic or a little unclear.

3 = information provided somewhat meets expectations, information is somewhat specific but also vague or unrealistic in some instances

2-1: too unclear or too unrealistic

0 = not submitted on time

Proposal on Sensitivity briefing report – 5%

1. What continent have you chosen or been assigned to?

1. What country or cultural group you want to produce a report on? Why? e.g. (American, Japanese, Persian, Chinese, Turkish, Italian, Mexican, Indigenous, Colombian, Thai, Indian, Persian, French-Canadians, Philipino, Armenian, Libanese, German, Syrian, etc.)

2. Clientele (individuals; couples, family; specific mental health problems; age groups such as infants, children, adolescents, young adults, middle age, or elderly: if more than one or combo, specify.)

3. Based on your choices above, what do you think are some of the most important values, beliefs, traditions, ideologies to know about when working with the clientele you've selected from this particular culture, and why? (e.g., attachment, sleeping arrangements, moral violations, ethic of divinity, views of the causes of mental health, views of medicine, parenting goals, values about family obligations, respect for elders, values about autonomy, values about interdependence, beliefs about romantic love, beliefs about death, masculinity, facial expressions, display rules, politeness, shame, self-esteem, gender roles, etc.) You must have between 3 and 5 topics. Remember that these topics must be relevant to clinical psychologists working with clients from that culture.

Don't forget to submit a reference list in APA style with your proposal assignment.
